Banco de la República | Colombia

Somos el banco central de Colombia

Circulating Coins

Monday, April 4, 2022 - 12:00

1,000-Peso Coin

A loggerhead turtle, a highly migratory marine species, is the image in the obverse (Heads) of the new bimetallic COP$1000 coin, which will return to the hands of Colombian people when Banco de la República (the Central Bank of Colombia) puts it into circulation in the second half of 2012.

500-Peso Coin

A crystal frog, an inhabitant of the Andean foothills (one of the most biologically rich areas in Colombia), will be the image in the obverse (heads) of the new COP$500 bi-metallic coin, which Banco de la República (the Central Bank of Colombia) will start circulating as of the second half of 2012.

200-Peso Coin

The scarlet macaw, the frailejón, and the spectacled bear are the three representative species of the Colombian biodiversity that will be present in the obverse (heads) of the new COP$200, COP$100, and COP$50 coins, which Banco de la República (the Central Bank of Colombia) will start circulating as of the second half of 2012.

[100-Peso Coin]

The scarlet macaw, the frailejón, and the spectacled bear are the three representative species of the Colombian biodiversity that will be present in the obverse (heads) of the new COP$200, COP$100, and COP$50 coins, which Banco de la República (the Central Bank of Colombia) will start circulating as of the second half of 2012.

[50-Peso Coin]

The scarlet macaw, the frailejón, and the spectacled bear are the three representative species of the Colombian biodiversity that will be present in the obverse (heads) of the new COP$200, COP$100, and COP$50 coins, which Banco de la República (the Central Bank of Colombia) will start circulating as of the second half of 2012.

Other coins still in circulation (only in Spanish)

[Moneda de 1000 pesos - 1996]

[Moneda de 500 pesos - 1993]

Moneda de 200 pesos - 1994

Moneda de 100 pesos - 1992

Moneda de 50 pesos - 2007

Moneda de 20 pesos - 2004

Moneda de 10 pesos

Moneda de 5 pesos